about erin

Erin Elliot is a South African songwriter, artist, and creative force making waves across the global music scene.

Signed to Sony Music Publishing, her songs have landed on the Top 40, been featured across Spotify and Apple Music editorial playlists, and gained recognition for their raw honesty and emotional depth.

Known for crafting unforgettable melodies and killer hooks, Erin moves seamlessly between big anthems and intimate ballads, always bringing a fresh perspective and strong storytelling. She's led writing camps, collaborated with artists and producers around the world, and continues to build a diverse catalogue that connects — whether she's writing for herself or others.

global songwriting sessions

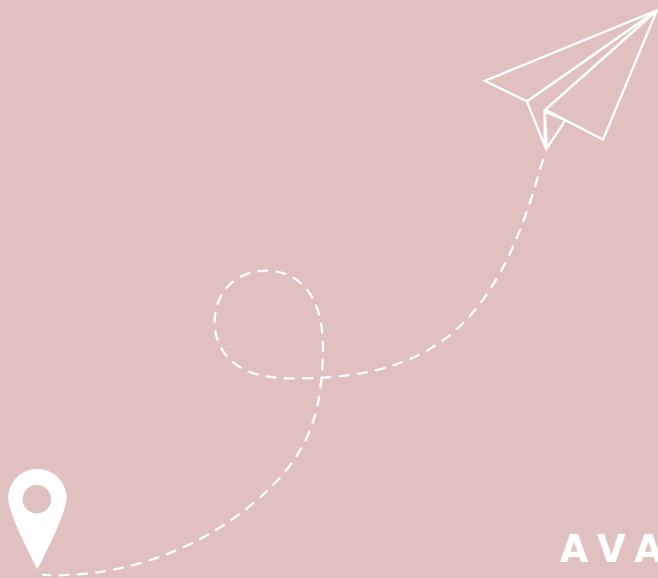

Great songs know no borders — and neither does Erin. Offering both in-person and virtual sessions, she collaborates with artists and producers around the world, from LA to London to your bedroom studio in Berlin.

Whether you need help toplining, co-writing, polishing lyrics, or shaping a rough idea into a fully realised track, Erin brings sharp instincts, strong storytelling, and a signature touch when it comes to hooks and melodies. For artists unlocking their next single or producers searching for that final spark — Erin shows up with heart, clarity, and creative fire.

bringing song house to south africa

After attending Song House in Nashville in May 2024, Erin was invited by the US team to bring the concept to South Africa — making her the first to launch the global songwriting platform on African soil. Since then, she has successfully run multiple writing camps, leading sessions, mentoring artists, and building a network of collaborators across genres. Erin plays a hands-on role in curating talent, guiding the creative process, and fostering a space where real songs — and real connections — are made.

advocating for women in music

Erin is also the co-founder of Pretty Loud — a new studio and artist development hub based in Cape Town, created alongside fellow artist Amy Tjasink. As the first of its kind in Africa, Pretty Loud is a creative ecosystem built to support and elevate women in music, where they can create, grow, and connect. It's more than just a studio — it's a creative community that creates platforms and opportunities for women in music, and a testament to Erin's passion for mentoring others and her growing role as a leader in the industry.
